

Allington

Allington class is based at a satellite site at Palace Wood School in Allington. The class is within the Formal learning approach and is integrated into a mainstream provision. There are 14 pupils in class with ages ranging from 6 to 10 years. They are supported by 4 members of staff.

Pupils have daily formal learning in literacy, maths and phonics. They learn best when activities match their interests and when they are given opportunities to solve problems. Pupils are also taught foundation subjects including science, geography, history, DT, RE, art and PSHE. The PSHE curriculum enables pupils to gain valuable life skills. It also allows them to work on building relationships, personal care, and their fine motor and sensory needs.

Class staff encourage pupils to be independent and help them to develop confidence that can be taken into 'real life' situations. Allington class has access to some large outside spaces, where they use natural resources to fuel their learning through art and creative tasks.
